About our speaker: Dave Obee is a journalist and genealogical researcher who has written a dozen books and given many presentations in Canada, the United States and Australia since 1997. He is a member of the services consultation committee at Library and Archives Canada in Ottawa, and is a columnist for Internet Genealogy magazine and Your Genealogy Today magazine. In his spare time, he is Editor and Publisher of the Times Colonist in Victoria, British Columbia. In 2012 Dave was awarded an honorary doctorate of laws by the University of Victoria for his work as a historian, genealogist and journalist.

About our program: Many Americans have ancestors or cousins in Canada. Canada has hundreds of websites of prime value to genealogists; some of the best finds will be in regional or local websites. This session will quickly guide you to the top sites, where it will be possible for you to make good progress on your Canadian lines. Links are on CanGenealogy, a link site dedicated to Canadian sources.
