About our speaker: Gena Philibert-Ortega is an author, researcher, and instructor specializing in the use of social history and material culture to tell the story of historical women's lives. She has published two books, Cemeteries of the Eastern Sierra (Arcadia Publishing) and From the Family Kitchen (F+W Media), and hundreds of articles in print magazines and online publications. She blogs at Gena's Genealogy and Food.Family.Ephemera. Gena is a frequent presenter at seminars and conferences throughout the United States and Canada. Her current research projects focus on American cemeteries, cookbooks, signature quilts, and 20th-century women's lives.

About our program: Details about women's lives are found in examining their relationships. What records exist that document relationships to significant others? Learn what records exist that connect a woman to her husband, partner, or significant other, what information the records provide, as well as where these records can be found.

Everyone is welcome---we hope you will join us.
